Conestoga faculty takes strike vote

By Michael Wilson

A vote by faculty of

Conestoga and the other 24 Ontario community colleges on May 21 could have a profound effect on all college students.

The faculty members vote was on whether to join the teachers' union and to strike.

A new offer from management May 12 would give teachers a three per cent raise and a 10 per cent raise in the salary grid. But the union will not accept the offer. The union will not accept the offer.

Conestoga's president, Michael Wilson, said he would support the union. He would support the union. He would support the union.
